

At

The Performance White paper was discussed. From the open group discussions, some of the suggestions for the performance review form were to make it shorter and customizable. The new form does both of those.